Rosa is a young organic rosé made by Azul y Garanza from Tempranillo and Garnacha grown in the arid surroundings of the Bardenas Reales Desert, the largest desert in Europe. This unique landscape—with poor clay-limestone soils, dry climate, and strong temperature swings between day and night—favors balanced and concentrated grape ripening.

The traditional Navarrese saignée technique allows must to be extracted by gravity without pressing, resulting in an attractive pale pink wine. On the nose, wild red berries dominate, alongside floral notes and a delicate hint of strawberry candy. On the palate, it stands out for its freshness, balance, and fruity expression.
